Please Note: For security reasons, the final two options available from the sign in function are not recommended if you are sharing a computer or likely to allow an unauthorised user access to your computer.

Once you have signed in the settings that you have selected will be saved automatically until you decide if you would like to change them.

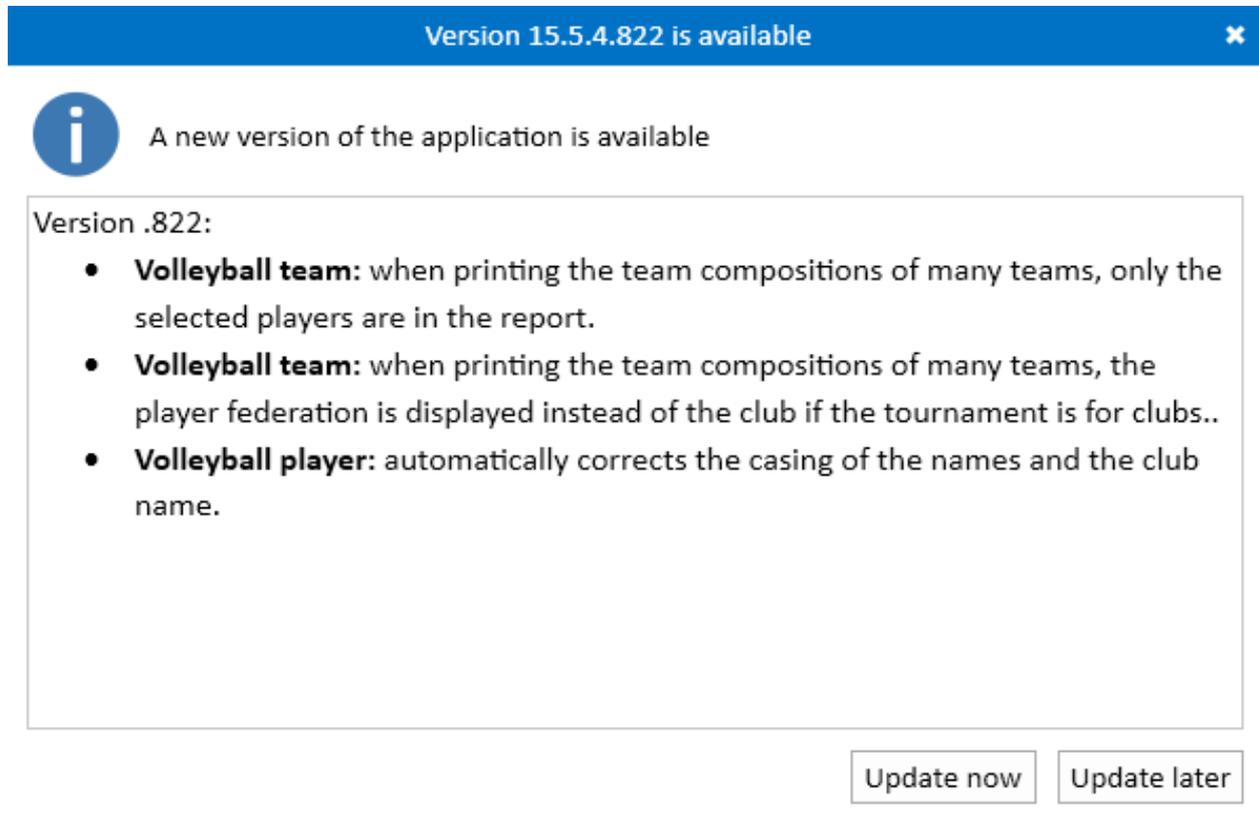

In order to change the settings of signing in simply open the application, select the sign out button, select the sign in button once again and proceed to fill out the 'Sign in' pop up box credentials.

If a user forgets their username or password then please contact the FIVB VIS administrator.

2.4 Updates

The FIVB VIS application will automatically request for an update of the software when applicable. It is recommended to update the software when available.

Upon opening the application, a pop up box with the updates will appear (if there is any). At this stage you can accept and run the updates to keep your software up to date.

The screenshot shows a blue header bar with the text "Version 15.5.4.822 is available" and a close button (X) on the right. Below the header is a white area with a blue information icon (i) and the text "A new version of the application is available". A white box with a thin border contains the text "Version .822:" followed by a bulleted list of three items. At the bottom right of the dialog are two buttons: "Update now" and "Update later".

3. Navigation Ribbon

The default page upon opening the FIVB VIS application is the 'Menu' tab. The other tab available is 'File'.

Some of the icons will appear in a greyed out form which means that they are not active within a certain area of the application. Different features of the application will become active depending on the area that a user is navigating within the application.

Within the 'Navigation Ribbon' can be split into three main categories as seen below in the image.

3.1 File tab

The 'File' tab is similar to that of Microsoft programs. Here a user can expand a side menu bar to access different features within the application.

- Close – returns the user to the default home page
- Recent – List of recent events visited
- Options – Users can access the following features
 - Folders – Allocate the FIVB VIS application to a folder on a computer
 - Languages – Select between current application languages
 - Update – Here a user can change the update settings for the application
 - Web Service – Complete and check web based information for the application
 - WebService log – View web service log data
- About VIS – Provides information on the FIVB VIS application
- Exit – Closes the application

3.2 Main tab

The 'Main' tab allows a user to enter into a competition for Volleyball or Beach volleyball by selecting the relevant icon in the tool bar drop down menu (as seen below).

3.3 Events – Volley and Beach

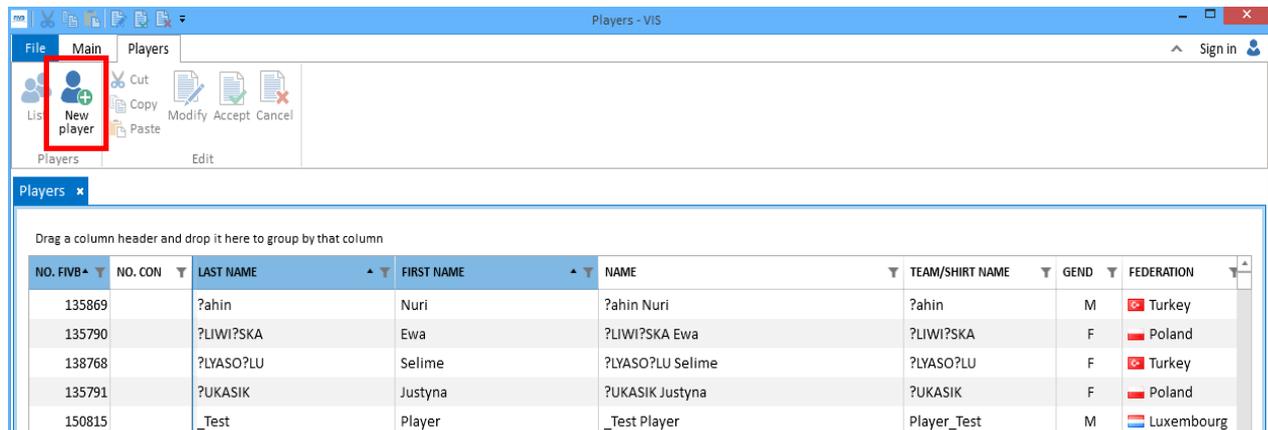

Each icon in this section will enable a user to select from a variety of Volleyball or Beach Volleyball events from a new window that will pop up once an icon has been clicked on.

The FIVB VIS application has been designed to function in a similar way to Microsoft. Users may find and related to the application due to the layout and navigation.

3.4 Persons - Players

Selecting the 'New Player' icon will enable a user to view a list of athletes from both disciplines of the sport. Once again, a new window will appear once the icon is selected enabling the user to interact with the feature.

Here a user can also add a new player to the system by selecting the 'New Player' icon located in the drop down tool bar.

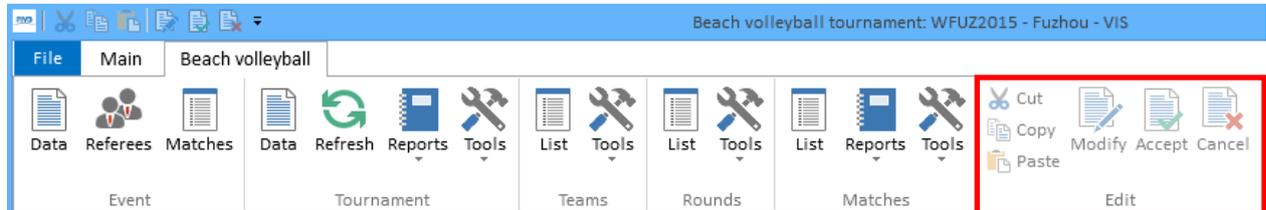

Please note: this is dependent upon user access rights.

3.5 Edit

In this section a user will find the following feature:

- Modify
- Accept
- Cancel

3.5.1 Modify

A user can modify data when a user is signed in to the FIVB VIS application. This functionality is based on user access rights, roles and permissions.

Modification to data is dependent upon the user access rights. In order to access this feature, you must have an active user account. If you do not then this feature will not be active and will appear 'greyed' out.

This feature is presented in the main tool menu bar at all times however it is only active in certain areas of the application.

If the feature is greyed out then this indicates that it is inactive.

3.5.2 Accept

Selecting the 'Accept' button will save any changes that the user has made to a section of the FIVB VIS application.

Please note: accepting to save edited or updated data will result in all users of the FIVB VIS application being able to see these changes.

3.5.3 Cancel

Selecting the 'Cancel' button will delete any edited or updated data entered into the FIVB VIS application from that particular section the user was operating in.

4. Volleyball - Events

In this feature a user will be able to view a variety of Volleyball events from a pop up window titled ‘Open a volleyball tournament’ window as seen below.
